Details

Now converted into three holiday cottages, these period buildings enjoy a prime location amid the Chianti hills. Florence is only a short drive north, as is Siena to the south, and the area is peppered with beautiful towns and villages to explore.

Each cottage has its own kitchen and private outdoor space, and also benefit from large gardens and a shared pool. The cottages are fully equipped and you'll find a welcome basket on arrival with some store cupboard essentials. Imagine breakfast al fresco under the trees, and a bottle of local Chianti waiting to be opened in the evening.

Children will love the large pool at the cottages, and mountain bikes, tennis and horse-riding are all available nearby. Wine tasting and golf might tempt the grown-ups, as well as a shopping trip to Tuscany's renowned designer outlets and cultural sights, which are all within easy driving distance.
